Introduction

Hello, I'm Egehan Soysüzen!

I grew up in Türkiye, studied and lived across Europe — from Poland to Germany — where I gained my perspective of trading internationally. Those experiences shaped Ingrezia: a brand built on curiosity, trust, and precision. For me, every deal is more than business — it's a bridge between people, places, and shared ambition.

Tradition

Ingrezia's story began long before its name was created. Its foundation lies in a family tradition of trade that started in the port city of Mersin, where the older generation of Soysuzen family built a business exporting pulses to Europe, the UK, the Middle East, India and Israel. From those early days, principles like trust, precision, and reliability defined every deal.

That same spirit continues within Ingrezia today. What began with sacks of lentils and chickpeas on the docks of Mersin has evolved into a modern trading company that bridges Türkiye's finest ingredients with partners across the World. The products may have changed — from pulses to fruit concentrates and natural ingredients — but the essence remains the same: trade built on relationships, respect, and reputation.

Spectrum

Ingrezia works across a broad and colourful spectrum of fruits and vegetables — from orchard classics to vibrant field crops. Each group represents the essence of its origin, cultivated with respect for seasonality, purity, and authentic taste.

We source and supply apple, pear, banana, quince, peach, apricot, melon, citrus fruits, pumpkin, carrot, date, pomegranate, tomato, beetroot, cherry, strawberry, raspberry, plum, grape, mulberry, elderberry, aronia, blackberry, blueberry, black carrot, and purple sweet potato — transforming nature's diversity into reliable, certified ingredients for the global trade.

Our portfolio reflects a deep understanding of Europe's market expectations and the trusted relationships we build with every producer behind each harvest.

NFC Juices

At Ingrezia, we see NFC juices as the purest expression of fruit — untouched, unaltered, and closest to nature. Each batch we trade is sourced directly from trusted producers who handle their fruit with the same care we put into our partnerships. Our NFC range includes apple, black carrot, sour cherry, pomegranate, and other regional varieties, all pressed and filled under certified conditions that preserve natural aroma and freshness.

We work closely with manufacturers across Türkiye, ensuring full traceability from field to filling. Every lot is lab-tested for consistency and stability, meeting the quality standards demanded by European buyers. Whether for juice bottling, blending, or beverage formulations, Ingrezia's NFC juices deliver balanced flavor, color, and reliability — shipment after shipment.

For us, it's not only juice. It's craftsmanship in liquid form — fruit transformed into trust.

Puree

Ingrezia's fruit purées capture the full body and texture of fresh fruit — ideal for beverages, baby food, desserts, and artisanal applications. We work with trusted producers across Türkiye to offer sour cherry, strawberry, apricot, and other seasonal purées, all processed under strict hygiene and certification standards.

Our purées are produced from carefully selected fruit at peak ripeness, retaining natural aroma, color, and mouthfeel. Each batch is checked for consistency, particle size, and microbiological safety, ensuring stability for your production line. We supply in aseptic drums, bag-in-box, or customized formats, giving manufacturers flexibility and assurance.

Behind every shipment stands Ingrezia's commitment to traceability, responsiveness, and partnership, turning a simple ingredient into a dependable building block for your next formulation.
